

Business snapshot

The Civic League of the Halifax Area photos/Bobbi Coleman
Daytona International Speedway President Joie Chitwood III, center, helps Betty Jane France hold the J. Saxon Lloyd Community Service Award given to her at the Civic League of the Halifax Area's annual meeting on Jan. 18. Joining them is J. Hvatt Brown, left, and Civic League President David Perryman.

Published: Sunday, February 16, 2014 at 5:30 a.m.
Last Modified: Saturday, February 15, 2014 at 8:06 p.m.

Joie Chitwood III, president of Daytona International Speedway, was the keynote speaker at the annual meeting of the Civic League of the Halifax Area. He presented a multimedia glimpse into the $400 million Daytona Rising project.

More than 150 members and guests attended the black-tie event held at the Oceanside Country Club in Ormond Beach on Jan. 18, including David Perryman, president of Perryman Properties and Civic League chairman. Special guests included former state Sen. Evelyn Lynn, former Daytona Beach Mayor Glenn Ritchey, County Chair Jason Davis, retired 5th District Court of Appeal Chief Judge David Monaco and Bethune-Cookman University President Edison Jackson.

Former Daytona Mayor Glenn Ritchey, center, his wife, Connie, left, and Betty Jane France sit together at the January Event.

Betty Jane France was honored with the J. Saxon Lloyd Community Service Award for years of philanthropy and contributions to the area.

— Nancy Niles